

LETTER FROM THE CHAIR

Greetings Delegates,

My name is Ninnette Jalfon, and I'm extremely excited to see all of you at the 49th annual Houston Area Model United Nations conference! We have some big plans for this year's International Criminal Police Organization committee, and I can't wait to hear the innovative responses you all will bring!

I am currently a first-year double major in Economics and Government at The University of Texas at Austin. I am following a Pre-Law track to one day become a corporate lawyer and eventually move into domestic or international politics. I participated in 3 years of MUN in high school. Over the years I was in CSW for two years and a crisis. MUN was one of my key determinants in becoming a lawyer and or politician and I hope that this year you'll find where you fit on a real-world stage!

I wanted to chair INTERPOL because International relations and Grand Strategy is a sector that's been debated by our predecessors and will be by our successors as well. This year's topics are slightly controversial, specifically cross-border trafficking and potential war crimes in the Israel-Palestinian Conflict. They are opportunities to show merit and maturity. With unilateral ideologies and hegemonical countries gaining influence, these topics allow you all to fix a paradoxical problem of anarchy.

We are looking forward to seeing what you all come up with to address these very real and urgent issues! I remind and encourage you all to come with creative minds, ready for debate of multiple points of view, and compromise. You all have the ability to change the world and it starts here. See you soon!

Best of luck, Ninnette Jalfon
